WHAT IS ECHO?

MOVING KNOWLEDGE, NOT PEOPLE

Project ECHO™ is an interprofessional practice network where education and/or healthcare professionals learn together. Short didactic lectures and case presentations are conducted during recurring video conferences. Participants learn best practices to support the individuals they serve by implementing real-time solutions, improving systems, and removing barriers to care.

- Join sessions online via Zoom
- Connect through your desktop, laptop, tablet, or phone
- Join from the comfort of your classroom, office, or home
- Professional credits are available
- No cost to participants

STRUCTURE OF A SESSION

1. Introductions and Announcements
2. Didactic Presentation (30 minutes or less)
3. Case Presentation
4. Final Announcements

An evaluation will be emailed to you following the session. Professional development credits are awarded based on your attendance and evaluation. Your input is also incredibly valuable in shaping the content and needs of future ECHOs.

Great presentation!
I have been a licensed social worker for over twelve years and these sessions are some of my favorite CEU opportunities I have attended.
